

WAVYLEAF BASKETGRASS

ONLY YOU CAN STOP THE SPREAD!

EXOTIC & INVASIVE

Wavyleaf Basketgrass (Oplismenus undulatifolius) is an exotic invasive grass originating in Asia.

SHADE-TOLERANT

Wavyleaf Basketgrass is shade-tolerant and spreads quickly.

Photo: Charlie Davis, Maryland Biodiversity Project Website
www.marylandbiodiversity.com/view/4070

Photo: K. L. Kyde, Maryland Biodiversity Project Website
www.marylandbiodiversity.com/view/4070

First found in Maryland at Patapsco Valley State Park in the 1990s, recently discovered in the Frederick Watershed.

IT'S TIME TO TAKE ACTION

If you visited Patapsco and other locations, please wash bike tires, shoes, and clothing before bringing and wearing gear in the Watershed. Seeds are sticky and easy to spread.

IF YOU SEE IT, HERE'S HOW TO REPORT IT:

1. snap a pic
2. scan the QR code
3. fill out the survey
4. click submit!

